Roblox cannot afford to go down the path of Farmville. They need to remain an open source program for everyone, where people can come together as equals and play fun games without being forced to pay money to be able to continue having fun within their virtual world. People who think they can't afford to pay should just get used to not having an ROBLOX account because that's what's happening. People are being kicked off the server by player banning.

As of April 2021, there are over 2,000 games on Roblox. Many of them are "clones" of other players' games made by other players, which can lead to copyright issues if the original creators do not want to share their work. Players may be able to report these games as well as block people who play them from their online profiles or in-game friends list. Some games have caused controversy with their focus on violence, sexuality and racism. However, Roblox staff have stated that the problem lies in the people who play these games, not in the games themselves.

The territory restriction on new accounts for "TERA" was lifted in June 2021. At that time, players were also given a free transfer to a North American account. In February 2021, En Masse Entertainment announced plans to merge servers for "TERA" and also announced additional details about Season 2 of "TERA: Rising". The merger began on March 11 with servers down for two hours beginning at 5 am Pacific Time (8:00 UTC). This was followed by two more short downtimes on March 17 and March 26 before all character transfers were completed. The merger of servers resulted in the creation of a single player vs. player server and a single role-playing server. The role-playing server was created to stop the underpopulated game world from splitting into two more servers.[62]

They say content is king, and this statement could not be more accurate for Roblox. Why? Because on Roblox, players are able to make their own games within the game itself! These games are called "games" or "sims," and they can be accessed from a GUI called "The Catalog." There are tons of free games that players have created and uploaded for others to play. In order to play these games, you have to purchase them using free robux. You can also make your own game and make it either free for others to play or charge for everyone else to play.

A serious game should be fun whether you spend money on it or not. The developer should not make a profit from people who don't care about winning but rather just want to play and have fun. If there is real value in the game then it can sustain itself

The community is toxic in many ways, Robloxian's have made characters with inappropriate content such as swearing in their usernames or wearing inappropriate clothing that make it look like they are roleplaying as an adult even though they shouldn't be. I am not a Minecraft addict, but I do enjoy playing that game. However, that is only because my friends and I play it together. Not because of the millions of dollars or diamonds you can get for free on Roblox. People are obsessed with Roblox; my Facebook account was filled with friends who played Minecraft as if they were addicted to crack. They would constantly post pictures about their new lifesize cardboard builds they worked on at home; taking ages-long breaks between each video to watch more videos of minecraft. We've all had friends who were that addicted to Roblox in our time, but I have never met one like Sinead who was "deeply miserable" because she was deprived of playing it. That was always the case whenever anyone mentioned it, I'm sure; parents would frequently ask me if and how I managed to get my grades, and teachers would always ask me if we had any homework. Sometimes they'd even assign us essays to write about our time on Roblox; even though a few months before everyone stopped doing them unless they were mandatory.

How about having a system where you can trade other players items and for their items you can trade them... and also it would be better if someone was able to get ban for inappropriate activity but at least it would give them an option to choose from and no one should be allowed to use excessive exp which is currently going very bad in the game... How about aswell have a better chat message system as well as on roblox the roleplay activity is pretty dead....

Rated 5 out of 5 by Anonymous from I love this game! This game is so fun and addicting! You can create your own avatar or characters and make them the way you want to. Then you can go on adventures with your friends all over various places, such as the woods, Medieval times, Downtown, or even outer space. You can do this in a bunch of different games. Not only is there adventure games, but you can play games like a shooter game, or even just a regular sandbox game where anything goes. My friends and I have been playing this game for years and we love it so much. It's great for kids to play because some of the games are educational and some are not. There are a lot of things to do on this game, and it's worth the money!
